

Media Manager Minecraft Server

I saw the application for Media Manager from the Minecraft Server I am a moderator in. I wanted to apply for the position not only to help the Minecraft server, but to also improve my networking skills in the future.

LOOKING FOR MEDIA MANAGER(S)

Dear staff members,

Recently I have build the  CreatorWallet where creators can simply view their IP joins, balance and rate per player join in real time (see picture below). We already have 4 creators actively using this. It now comes with our creator program. Now that this application is working as it should, we are ready to take on some more creators. @HELPER • Dinitrogenoxide has already acquired the  Media Manager role. Maybe anyone else is interested in this position?

What do we expect from you?

- Reaching out to Minecraft creators (YouTube and TikTok).
- Introducing them to The Universe Network (template message can be used):
 - Explaining our vision.
 - Showcasing the game(s).
 - Explaining the CreatorWallet and showing them a demo.
- Making sure creators are interested in speaking with POCCITO.
- Putting interested and well informed creators into a group DM with POCCITO.

Is it a paid position?
Yes, you will get paid for each creator that you bring in.

If you want to know more details such as the contract or amount of compensation then send POCCITO a DM

Hey Poccy 🍪 .

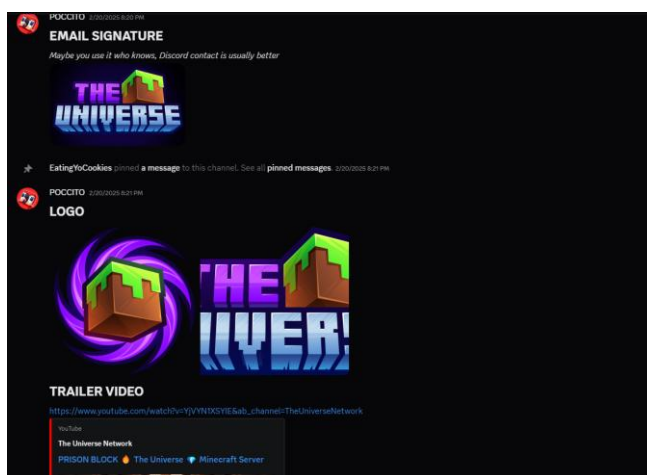

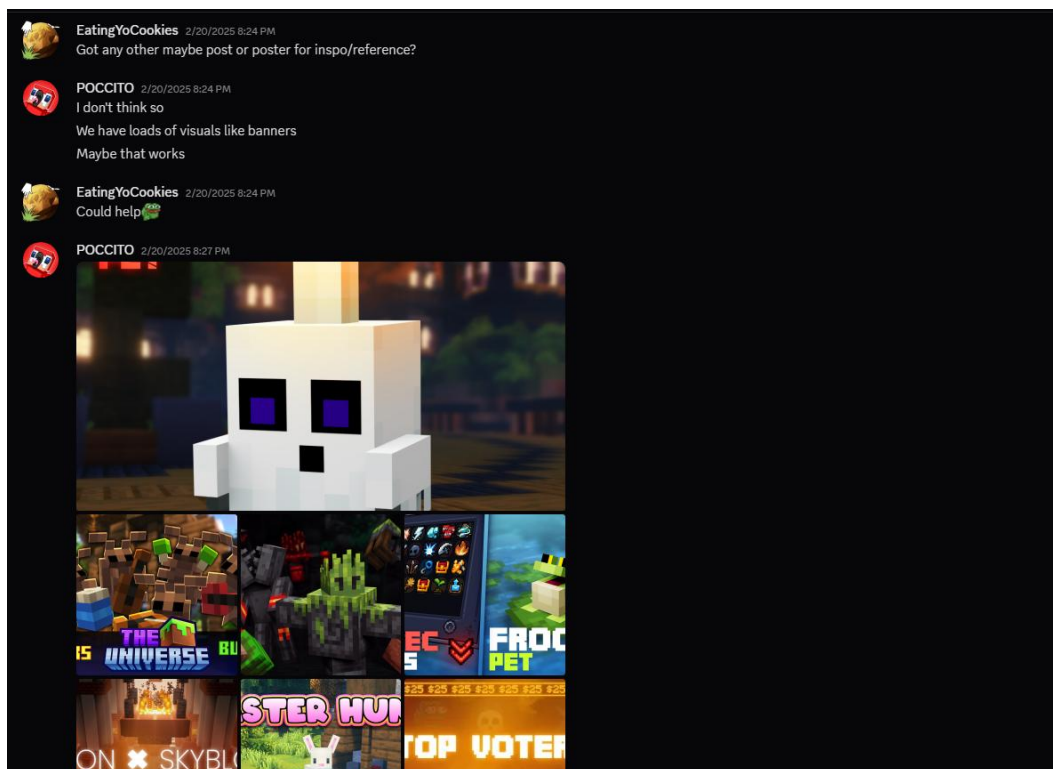

I wanted to ask about the Media Manager role. I would like to give it a shot, because it would be a nice way to help me learn how to network more with people(Also could be useful for my school). Also is there like a specific range of subscribers/views the creator must have? Would it also be fine using the same template message for all creators I come across? (edited)

Sweet!

And yes that is fine. I actually have guidelines for everything

Just in case I also asked if the owner has a brand guide or styling for their advertisement or banner posts. I asked if it was possible when I have time that I could make some advertisement or banners for them and ask for previously made ones to get inspiration from them.

Till now I haven't been successful with recruiting new content creators having 3 failed attempts.

I have received information to increase more content creators on Youtube or Tiktok. I should make a separate account and start filtering Minecraft videos to its recommended page instead of using my own personal account to scour the platforms.

When I also have more free time or motivation I would like to see if I could make a banner or advertisement soon for them to keep working and iterating on.
